

Program Format

::Intro::

Script is an adaptation of the original myth. The podcastplay must use direct translations of an original text. It is best to have multiple translations, and preferable to have an original transliteration or hieroglyph transcription. Try to maintain the original quotes from players as much as possible. Keep the original narrative format of the original text; the ancient Egyptian mythological text format utilizes a narrator to describe the players and their speech.

Research

Provide background on the source text, including any archaeology and translators. Discuss the significance of the myth, and any important details that cannot be derived from the context of the podcastplay.
